My first time with anal sex toys

Sex is one of the best feelings in the world but sometimes you don't have someone special in your life to fulfill your sexual desires. I just got out of a 7 year relationship with the love of my life. I felt alone and hurt.

Sexual desires are very natural and sometimes people can get frustrated if their needs aren't fulfilled.

This is where I thank sex toys. Sex toys may still be considered taboo by some, but they do the job. The best part about sex toys is that they are never unfaithful to you.

When I got out of my relationship my friend told me about getting anal sex toys. I was hesitant in buying them from the store. So I ordered some online. Before I received the product my friend actually gifted me a few just to get me started. I got the toys but it wasn't until a few days I started using them.

For many days, I was confused about using them. I didn't know if I could do it but my sexual appetite compelled me to start using them. I started using a butt plug first. It was a small butt plug but it gave me a good start. It made me feel really good. I had a collection of different anal sex toys. I started with a butt plug but with time I started changing the anal sex toy. The best one was a black dildo. It was such a great experience. It felt so good. I had never experienced such big size in me before.

When I was doing it I was wondering why for so many days I was so nervous about using.

I could have helped me get through the time when my boyfriend was away for a business meeting for two months.

When I used the biggest anal sex toy I had, it did cause me a bit of pain but I knew I had to do it a couple of times to start having fun with it and that is what happened. After some time, it started feeling good. I put the dildo in and out and moaned.

I moaned and moaned and even had an orgasm. It might sound a bit exaggerated but it was one of the best sexual experiences I ever had. I am now enjoying orgasms that I hadn't enjoyed for years.

Many people find rebound love when they break up but for me anal sex toys were a new and ideal experience. I actually texted me friend and said thank you to her after my first experience with anal sex toys. After my first experience, I kept looking for new toys for more unique experience.

It might sound a bit weird but it didn't make me feel alone anymore. I have many different anal sex toys but I prefer to use rubber toys as I am still in the starting stages of using it. I felt that all women should use anal sex toys. It is one experience that you will never know about unless and until you try it yourself.

Sugar Daddy, It's Not That Bad

When I was 24, my boyfriend of 5 years left me for another girl. It broke my heart. I trusted him blindly and he broke my trust. At that day it wasn't just my heart that was broken but it broke me entirely.

I sulked and sulked. I spent the next few days laying in bed and watching my ex boyfriends Facebook. He seemed very happy. He shared photos with the other girl. One day I was just sitting in the park next to my apartment and one of my neighbors saw me and sat next to me.

We started talking. He was around 50. He started sharing his life experiences. He also told me how I can cope with the situation. We exchanged numbers and he told me that I could contact him whenever I want.

So after a few days I was feeling down so I texted him and he came to my house. We kept talking and he asked me if I had wine at home and I did. I had been drinking since the past few days. So we drank wine and suddenly he kissed me. It was very spontaneous and it took me by surprise. It took me a few seconds to process to understand what was going on. Once I got back into my senses. I started kissing him as well. It was a very passionate moment.

He was around 30 years older than me but I was enjoying an experience like never before. None of my younger boyfriends had ever been able to provide me what he provided me. He was rich, well settled, mature and knew his way around a girl's body. We started having sex once a week, twice a week and then a time came when we had sex almost every day. He had a lot of money and provided me with everything I asked for.

He used to give me expensive gifts and bought me dresses and whatever I asked.

With time, I started feeling like he was just a rebound but he was rich and I liked getting gifts from him. I lost interest in him and the sex didn't stay that good as well. Most of the times I felt like doing sex with him were more like a duty than an activity for mutual pleasure. Don't get me wrong, I faked orgasm and made him feel like I was loving it but it was just because I wanted his money.

I left my job to spend more time with him. Believe it or not but I was getting more money by sleeping with him than I got with working 50 hours a week. The sex was good at the beginning but with time it started becoming boring but I had to keep going.

I didn't know how long I could keep it going but as long as I was getting money and gifts I was fine with it. He started staying at my place and other neighbors started feeling that something was going on between us. He started buying a lot energy pills as well which helped him keep the sex good. I was approached by many other neighbors who wanted me to stay away from him as they thought he was taking advantage of me but it was a two way arrangement.

I was also taking advantage of his money. Watching this one of my other neighbors also approached me for the same thing. I had already managed to keep it going for so long with my sugar daddy that I had gotten used to him. I wasn't up for the idea of another sugar daddy that could only make me experience generic and boring sex.

At the end of the day I realized that it wasn't that bad. Yes, the sex wasn't good but the benefits I was getting were far too good. I enjoyed sex with my ex boyfriend as well but I didn't get to have so much money like I do now.
